

ARCHERY AUSTRALIA NEWS Edition - 2016 - 13

Release of a new version of iScored.today from the IT Committee

The Archery Australia IT Committee is pleased to announce that it has now completed the redesign of iScored.today to allow all devices (both IOS and Android) to use it in either an online or offline situation. This removes the difficulties experienced with maintaining separate versions of an IOS and Android APP and overcomes a number of errors that had been experienced with the Android APP.

It will work on phones, tablets and PC's, any device capable of accessing the internet.

There has been a tremendous amount of work by the Archery Australia IT Committee and offers some major advancements in both the usability and function.

iScored.today has been reinvented to use the latest technologies, allowing a single application to be used on all modern devices for both online and offline scoring.

Once the archers to be scored at a target have been selected, the scoring device can be disconnected from an active Internet connection for the duration of the shoot. Only once the scoring has been completed must the device be reconnected to the Internet for the scores to be uploaded.

The new version has been tested on Windows© desktop (Internet Explorer and Chrome), Mac desktop (Safari and Chrome), Windows© Phone (Internet Explorer), Android Phone and Tablets (Android Internet and Chrome), Apple Phone and iPad (Safari).

What is the timeframe of the release and what does it mean to the current Android APP.

The new version of iScored.today will be available for use from this Friday 27th of May.

The previous Android APP is no longer available for download as of now and is no longer supported by the IT Committee.

The previous Android APP will cease to work on the 1st of June and from that point on iScored.today will be the main online and offline score entry device for Archers Diary.
